

HALE'S CAMPAIGN
PUSHED RAPIDLY

Capture of Morong Without Incident.

AMERICANS WILL CONTINUE ADVANCE THIS EVENING.

Heat Terrific and Frequent Showers Cause Deadly Humidity—Hospital Boats Returning to Manila Bring Two Hundred Soldiers Suffering From Heat Prostration—Country En Route to the Field of Operations Offer Obstacles to Transportation of Supplies—Wagon Route Through San Mateo Valley Abandoned—Camped and Routed Hottest Part of Day.

Manila, June 5.—[Special]—Gen. Hale's campaign against the insurgents under Gen. Pilar at the north of Laguna de Bay continues vigorously today. The American lines across the Morong peninsula, extending six miles from Morong on the east to Antipolo and Taytay on the west, began gradually closing in this morning and the advance down the peninsula was begun. Gen. Hale hopes to bag the main body of the enemy here.

The heat is terrific and the frequent showers cause deadly humidity. Hospital boats returning this morning brought two hundred soldiers suffering from heat prostration. The country between Manila and the field of operations offers many obstacles to the transportation of supplies and the wagon communication from Manila through the San Mateo valley has been abandoned.

Capture of Morong Without Incident

Manila, June 5.—[Special]—The capture of Morong this morning was without incident, the rebels having fled from the place.

The Americans camped and rested the hottest part of the day. They will continue to advance this evening.

Held a Midnight Conference

Washington, June 5.—[Special]—Nothing has been learned as to the nature of the conference had at midnight by the president with Acting Secretary of War McKeljohn and Adjutant General Corbin.

It is believed very important news, which has not been made public, has been received from General Otis.

Real Reason for Conference

Washington, June 5.—[Special]—The real reason for the midnight conference of the president, McKeljohn and Corbin is stated to have been by desire of the war department officials to discuss with the president the plans of campaign submitted by Gens. Otis and Underwood. It advocates an aggressive campaign against the insurgents during the rainy season and it is announced semi-officially that the president is in favor of instructing him to proceed.

Manila, June 5.—Five men killed and nine wounded—a loss of fourteen to the Americans—is the cost of two days' campaigning under Gen. Lawton during terrible heat, through Calata, Taytay, Antipolo and Morong. The insurgents' loss is reported to be heavy in killed.

Gen. Hall, with the Thirteenth, Fourteenth, part of the Ninth infantry and a part of the Oregon regiment of volunteers, left early Saturday with Antipolo as their objective point. They encountered a line of the enemy in the foothills and were unable to advance further than Calata, which fell after sharp resistance, the Oregon losing one killed and five wounded.

Whalley, with the Washington volunteers and two battalions of the Thirteenth regiment, a part of the Nebraska regiment, joined Hall to make the attack on Calata. Later they moved to a position near Taytay and waited until Hall's forces struck Antipolo, when the town was taken without loss.

The two commands are now united and making a clean sweep toward Morong.

Gen. Lawton returned to Manila last night. The insurgents attacked Funston's outpost at San Bernardino Saturday morning, using artillery shells that fell into the camp. A Montana man was wounded.

Hall's Men Fight Hard

Manila, Jan. 5.—With part of the Fourth cavalry, the Oregon and Wyoming volunteers, the Ninth infantry and guns of the First and Sixth artillery, Gen. Hall left the pumping station at 5 o'clock Saturday morning to fight his way over the hills to Antipolo.

Gen. Lawton's plan was to have Gen. Hall drive the native troops from Antipolo toward Laguna de Bay and finally attack them in the rear, while a strong force from Pasig should attack their front at Taytay.

It was a magnificent plan, as the strong forces of insurgents there might be crushed, but it failed of complete success because it took seven hours for Hall's troops to cover the distance expected to have been made in two, and gave the insurgents time to get out.

The failure of Hall to get through Antipolo was due to a fight in the hills four miles out of that town. The Oregon regiment and the detachment of the Fourth cavalry suffered somewhat in the encounter.

The insurgents fired upon the attacking column from strong trenches high up on the mountain side, and, although driven from their strongholds, kept up a running fight for several hours. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the column under Col. Whalley of the First Washington started from Pasig for Taytay.

From the heights above the pumping station Gen. Lawton could see and direct both columns over the sweep of the beautiful San Mateo valley. Just as Hall's command disappeared over the hills in the distance, Whalley's black column came in sight, moving with great rapidity. Almost before one realized it the column had swept with its skirmishing line clear across four miles of valley toward Taytay.

Both the insurgents and residents fled panicstricken into the hills before the impetuous rush of the American soldiers.

Two men of the Twelfth Infantry were killed before the town. The place was later shelled for half an hour.

Gen. Lawton in person directed the right column in the attack upon Taytay. No resistance was encountered, the enemy retreating after burning the church and part of the town. The streets were found barricaded, but there were evidences everywhere of the hasty flight of the people.

Gen. Hall connected with the right column in Taytay at 10 o'clock in the morning. His total loss during the march was five men killed and nine wounded. The enemy escaped to the hills.

Gen. Lawton spent Saturday night in getting the Washington volunteers on board of cascos to move on Morong, but the boats stuck in the mud and failed to move, but finally reached Morong at daylight.

It is thought that the garrisons of Taytay and Calata have retreated to the Morong peninsula, where it is hoped to catch them between Hall's and Whalley's columns.

The Americans found the roads impassable for wagons from Antipolo to Taytay. A number of wagons belonging to the commissary department and some containing ammunition for the artillery became imbedded in the mud so firmly that Capt. Hawthorne ordered them burned in order to prevent them falling into the hands of the insurgents.

MORE SOLDIERS FOR GEN. OTIS

Secretary Alger Says That Volunteers May Yet Be Called.

Boston, Mass., June 5.—Secretary of War Alger left Boston last night for Detroit by way of Montreal. In the course of an interview Secretary Alger said that the matter of calling for volunteers for service in the Philippines has not been decided, but that it probably would be when President McKinley returned from his visit to New England.

Gen. Alger was asked if Gen. Otis had said that 30,000 troops were sufficient to subjugate the natives, and he replied that Gen. Otis had at no time said that he required more than 30,000 troops. He said further: "We have still 25,000 regulars, including the artillery, that we can call on to reinforce the army of Gen. Otis. If needed we could send off 5,000 in a week, and thus allow Gen. Otis the full force which he says he requires for the subjugation of the insurrection."

Champion du Monde Competition

There is to be a new judgment of Paris, in more than one sense of the term. Our Parisian contemporary Gil Blas is organizing an international beauty competition. First prize, 5,000 francs, partly in money and partly in dress, and the proud title of "Championne du Monde." Now, ladies, here is your chance. It is only to be hoped that the bold individuals who have undertaken to act as judges will not be overwhelmed by the mass of competitors. The jury includes Sarah Bernhardt and Catulle Mendès, but not one English person, unless it be a certain ladies' tailor whose name, at all events, is English. This, of course, is hard on competitors who do not happen to be French, since the jury will naturally incline to the style of French beauty, on the same principle (to quote an extreme case) that the Hotentots think their Venus can give points to the Venus of Milo.—London Telegraph.

The Bubonic Plague

Statistics gathered regarding the bubonic plague in India show that since the beginning of the last outbreak at Bombay 250,000 deaths have been recorded. This number, however, is believed to be much below the actual total, because the natives are known to have concealed deaths from the disease.

In certain parts of Sweden, where the most absolute confidence is reposed in the honesty of people, a very informal postal system is in vogue. As the mail steamer reaches a landing place a man goes ashore with letters, which he places in an unlocked box on the pier. Then the passer-by who expects a letter opens the box, turns over the letters and selects his own, unquestioned by any one.

FRENCH CABINET TO TAKE ACTION

Royalists Must Suffer For Assault on Loubet.

A MEETING HELD TODAY TO ADOPT MEASURES.

Count Boni Castellane Will Probably Not Be Punished, But Some of the More Active and Less Influential Conspirators May Be Severely Dealt With—President of the French Republic Is the Victim of a Hostile Demonstration by an Aristocratic Mob at the Enil Race Course—An Attempt Was Made to Strike the French President with a Cane.

Paris, June 5.—[Special]—The cabinet again today to consider what measures should be taken against Count Boni Castellane and the 113 other royalists who made an attack on President Loubet. Castellane will probably not be punished, but some of the more active and less influential conspirators may be severely dealt with.

Paris, June 5.—President Loubet was the victim of a hostile demonstration and a personal assault at the Auteuil race course Sunday afternoon.

He arrived at the course at 3 o'clock to see the grand steeplechase de Paris, and was greeted with cheers of "Panama!" "Down with Loubet!" and booing and hissing from a section of the crowd which was led by a number of aristocrats.

One of the ringleaders in the disgraceful scene, Baron Christiani, made his way to the presidential tribune and attempted to strike President Loubet with his cane. The assailant was immediately arrested.

The hostile group, which was numerous and greatly excited, continued the insolent cries throughout the president's stay. The police rushed among the manifestants and arrested them by the wholesale.

A free fight ensued, and there was a great uproar. Inspector Grillieres was seriously hurt, and the director of the municipal police was also roughly handled.

Three hundred arrests were made, the prisoners including several members of the so-called "grand noblesse." A majority of those arrested were subsequently liberated, but about 100 were detained.

President Loubet's friends and part of the crowd met the demonstration of the enemies of the head of the state with counter cries of "Long live Loubet!" The president subsequently left amid mingled cheers and hisses.

The ministers met in the evening to consider the incident. It was decided to hold forty-five of the prisoners, among whom are some royalist notabilities.

The cabinet will meet again to discuss the attitude in view of interpellations which will be submitted to the chamber of deputies relative to the incident and the judgment in the Dreyfus case.

REORGANIZATION OF OUR STATE MILITIA

PLANS HAVE BEEN ALMOST COMPLETED.

Janesville Must Hustle to Secure Their Old Place in the First Regiment—
Selection of Officers Will Come
Next—Equipping New Companies
Will Soon Begin.

The plans for the reorganization of the Wisconsin national guard now practically have been completed, but there is some time left yet for the Bower City boys to exert their energies in an effort to gain recognition. It is expected that this week the work of selecting field officers and formally reorganizing the regiments will be begun. Besides this the work of equipping the new companies will then begin, while the details for the annual camps at Camp Douglas will be made public.

It has been definitely decided that the four companies which will be allotted to Milwaukee will be a part of the first regiment and will form a battalion in themselves. In view of this it is not improbable that the headquarters of the First will be in Milwaukee, instead of at Monroe, where it has been for many years. What companies the regiment will be composed of has not been definitely decided. Of the four companies in Milwaukee, three have already been mustered in, those of Capt. J. F. Manion, Capt. T. Wild and Capt. E. Lewis, all of the old Fourth regiment. There is also a company in Milwaukee known as Company C, fifth regiment, but this will probably be mustered out to make room for one of the other old companies now desiring admission into the guard. Among these are Co. D and Co. G of the old fourth, which have applications for muster-in on file at Madison. Capt. A. K. Stebbins also has a company of recruits. The battalion, from present indications, however, will be made up from the three old fourth regiment companies already in the service, and either Co. D or Co. G. As for the other companies in the regiment, five have already been decided upon—Co. C, Whitewater; Co. G, Madison; Co. B, Fort Atkinson; Co. E, Beloit; and Co. H, Monroe. The other three companies needed for the regiment will be made up of fourth or fifth regiment companies. There may be such a thing that the feeling against Janesville may blow over and the Bower City be afforded an opportunity to "get in line."

Various names have been mentioned for colonel of the new first regiment. In Milwaukee Col. H. M. Seaman has been prominently mentioned, and during the past few days Col. B. H. Daly's name has also been connected with the place. In addition to these two, the names of Col. S. P. Schadel of Monroe and Lieut. Col. S. C. Young of the same city are being suggested. Maj. George Joachim of Madison and Maj. A. B. Cambier and Maj. T. K. Birkhauser of Milwaukee also have been spoken of. Who will be appointed, the military officers at Madison say, has not been decided upon.

The second regiment is almost complete, and little work besides organizing the field staff remains to be done. It will be the same as it was before, with only one exception. Marshfield, two Oshkosh, Ripon, Fond du Lac, Sheboygan, Appleton, Marinette, Beaver Dam, Oconto and Manitowish companies have reorganized. At Ashland there is a hitch, and unless an agreement is reached soon, one of the fifth regiment companies in that vicinity will be mustered in to fill up the gap in the regiment. The officers of the regiment remain to be chosen. It is not known if Col. Charles R. Born will be reappointed. Capt. Charles Green, who served as adjutant for the regiment during the war, also is being mentioned for the colonelcy.

The Third regiment has been formed with one exception; that of Eau Claire, where two factions have arisen in Co. E. Capt. J. Ballard is leader of one side while Lieut. P. Cochrane is the head of the other faction, and the dispute there has prevented the reorganization of the company at Eau Claire and if the Third regiment company there is not reorganized, the Fifth regiment company will be annexed to the Sick Women Advised to Seek Advice of Mrs. Pinkham.

[LETTER TO MRS. PINKHAM NO. 94,363.]
"I had inflammation and falling of the womb, and inflammation of ovaries, and was in great pain. I took medicine prescribed by a physician, but it did me no good. At last I heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and after using it faithfully I am thankful to say I am a well woman. I would advise all suffering women to seek advice of Mrs. Pinkham."—Mrs. G. H. CHAPPELL, GRANT PARK, ILL.

"For several years my health was miserable. I suffered the most dreadful pains, and was almost on the verge of insanity. I consulted one of the best physicians in New York, and he pronounced my disease a fibroid tumor, advising an operation without delay, saying that it was my only chance for life. Other doctors prescribed strong and violent medicine, and one said I was incurable, another told me my only salvation was galvanic batteries, which I tried, but nothing relieved me. One day a friend called and begged me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I began its use and took several bottles. From the very first bottle there was a wonderful change for the better. The tumor has disappeared entirely and my old spirits have returned. I heartily recommend your medicine to all suffering women."—Mrs. VAN CLEFT, 416 SAUNDERS AVE., JERSEY CITY HEIGHTS, N. J.

Third regiment. The other companies which will be in the new Third will be Hudson, Menomonee, West Superior, two La Crosse, Tomah, Sparta, Neillsville, Mauston, Portage and Waubesa. Captain C. Howland of La Crosse, is being prominently mentioned for the head of the Third, and it is practically settled that he will succeed Colonel M. T. Moore, who is also a candidate for reappointment.

The arrangements for equipping the guard have been completed. The state has let the contracts for 2,300 uniforms which will be delivered July 10 and will be distributed just before the companies go into camp this year.

In addition to these, contracts for tentage have been let, while the ordinance has already been received from Washington. Springfield rifles, thoroughly re-used. The authorities say that when the equipment is furnished the men of the various regiments will be more completely provided than they were when they were called into service last spring.

The details for the annual camp have not all been decided upon but the troops will go to Camp Douglas this year as in the past. August will probably be chosen for the time. Each regiment will go into camp separately.

LIEUT. RICHARDSON SWAM THE RIVER

EQUALS FUNSTON'S ACT IN THE PHILIPPINES.

At the Head of His Regiment He Crossed the Stream at a Time
When Bullets Were Plentiful—
News Comes From George W. Kroner, a Private in the Army.

Gen. Frederick Funston of the Twentieth Kansas is not the only brave American who ever swam a river at the head of his men and in the face of a galling fire. There is a modest man from Janesville in the service at Manila who did the self same thing—Lieut. Lorraine Thompson Richardson of the Twentieth United States regulars.

Although Lieut. Richardson equalled Funston's feat, his modesty, apparently, prevented him from saying anything about it in his letters to Janesville relatives and friends. But "murder will out" and a letter written by George W. Kroner, a private in the regiment, tells of his gallantry as follows:

"The Filipinos—niggers, we call them—would not grant us time to write for awhile here. No more had we landed than we received orders to go to the front. The first three days we did not do much shooting, although their sharpshooters were continually popping at us. After we, (the Twentieth) got started we kept going for days. Talk about real genuine soldiers—one meal a day, hard tack and bacon sure enough—running, fighting, sleeping with the stars for a blanket and good old mother earth for a bed spring. The niggers were used to fighting at night, but Gen. Wheaton who came over with us, said:

"We will have to teach the niggers to fight in the daytime."

"At first they blazed away at us at 8 a. m., and we started in about 6 o'clock—daybreak. They try to make numerous stands, but they are not 'onto their job.' However, they are learning to fight as we do.

"We had the task on March 12 of taking Pasig, a walled city. * * *

We led the advance upon the islands upon which Pasig is situated, and charged up the street to a large church, their stronghold. We shot it full of holes and burst in the doors, and after driving out the niggers, some of the boys ran up into the belfry and rang the bells as they had never been rung before.

"About 10 o'clock on March 16, we stopped at a river that we had to cross to get to the city of Cainta, where the Filipinos were preparing to make a stand. Our battalion commander was dickering how to cross that river at some shallow place. Ping! came the bullets from the enemy. They thought we were stuck.

"The water was up to our armpits, and we threw everything away, except rifle and cartridge belt, and with Lieut. Richardson, a regular daredevil, in the lead, swam across in a hurry. Then it became hot on both sides. We would run toward the Filipinos fifty yards at a time and make a baseball slide for a ridge and pump several volleys into them.

"When we got orders for a final charge we made a direct assault on their stronghold, yelling and shouting as we ran. Those we didn't shoot died from fright, as we yelled like Indians. We had to make a bold charge or get killed, as we only had ten rounds of ammunition. Had the niggers known our fix, we would never have taken Cainta. After taking the church, their stronghold, we rang the bells, and set the structure on fire."

Lieut. Richardson is the son of ex-Senator and Mrs. Hamilton Richardson, of this city, and was born in Janesville on May 20, 1871. He graduated from West Point with honors, and was assigned to the Twentieth infantry as a second lieutenant. He served through the Santiago campaign, winning promotion to first lieutenant, and the brevet of captain. After the fall of Santiago his regiment was sent to the Philippines. Soon after their arrival the captain of Lieut. Richardson's company was taken sick, and since then the lieutenant has been in command of his company. He is now doing police duty in the city of Manila, and has complete control of a large section of the town—an exceedingly trying and responsible position.

Lieut. Richardson's oldest brother, Victor P., is mayor of Janesville, and his next oldest brother is a justice of the peace. H. P. Richardson, of Monroe & Richardson, lawyers, Milwaukee, is also his brother.

I was seriously afflicted with a cough for several years, and last year had a more severe cough than ever before. I have used many remedies without receiving much relief, and being recommended to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, by a friend, who, knowing me to be a poor widow, gave it to me. I tried it, and with the most gratifying results. The first bottle relieved me very much and the second bottle has absolutely cured me. I have not had as good health for twenty years. Respectfully, Mrs. Mary A. Beard, Claremore, Ark. Sold by People's Drug Co.

HOBO CONVENTION IS CALLED

Danville, Ill., Will Do Honors in Entertaining.

Danville, Ill., is the place selected for a convention on the 15th inst. that is to be a very novel gathering indeed, and one which we feel quite confident in saying the Bower City business men will not be anxious to secure for next year or any year thereafter.

A convention of hoboes has been called to meet there June 15. The call has been circulated in rural districts and cities for some time. Quite as unique as the convention itself is this "call." It is a tiny poster or "sticker" for handy pasting on lamp posts and covering landmarks of the highways.

The hoboes are their own bill posters and they are posting up the love-feast call at countless places along the roadways all over the country. Within the last few weeks 10,000 of these posters have been printed and distributed at the expense of a wealthy young man of Sycamore, Ill., who styles himself a "society tramp."

Under the name of "Box Car Tourists' Union, No. 67," more than 300 hoboes of Chicago have organized to get in readiness for convention work. They claim to be affiliated with 100 similar organizations covering most of the territory between "the great divide" of the Rocky mountain range and the Atlantic seaboard. An outline of the program for the convention has been drawn up. It includes discussions of the economic and social conditions out of which the hobo evolved himself or has been evolved. College graduates in disguise or "reduced" by drink will be among the eloquent speakers at the meeting. Tents and empty barrels will house the delegates and a sand lot owned by "Onion" Cotton, a hotel proprietor of Danville, has already been selected for the holding of the convention, which is to be in the open air.

I cannot name the rare joys, the infinite delights that intoxicate me since taking Rocky Mountain Tea. 35 cents. Smith's Pharmacy, Kodak Agents.

Exceptionally Low Rates to Buffalo, N. Y., Via the North-Western Line. Excursion tickets will be sold at greatly reduced rates from all stations, on account of annual meeting A. A. O. Nobles of Mystic Shrine, to be held June 14 and 15. For rates of sale and limits of tickets apply to agents Chicago & North Western Ry.

Another Coffee Bargain.

We have just received an invoice of Old Dutch O. G. Java coffee put up in one pound air tight tins that promises to be very popular. It is a very fancy article and will be sold at the unusually low price of 25 cents pound can. People who have sold it say it compares well with 35 cent coffee. It is only one of the many good bargains we have for purchasers. Sanborn.

LATE NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

NEW YORK FOR HENDERSON.

Eastern State, It Is Believed, Will Support the Iowa Man.

TO BE DECIDED TOMORROW.

Republican Congressmen Meet Then to Determine Their Line of Action in the Speakership Contest—Ninety Votes Are Already Pledged to Col. Henderson.

New York, June 5.—Representative Payne of Auburn and half a dozen other New York state republican congressmen were at the Fifth Avenue hotel Sunday to talk with Senator Platt about the speakership and other matters. From what was gathered it may be said that "the jig is up" so far as other efforts to make James Schoolcraft Sherman of Utica speaker of the house of representatives are concerned.

There is no warrant for the positive assertion, but it is nevertheless accepted that the republican delegation of New York congressmen, when they meet on Tuesday, will tentatively or otherwise declare that Representative David Bremner Henderson of Dubuque, Iowa, would be a pretty good man for speaker.

HAS NINETY VOTES PLEDGED.

Col. Henderson Assured of His Election as Speaker of Congress.

Chicago, June 5.—Pledges of additional support for the speakership came to Col. David B. Henderson yesterday. He received many callers and was busy most of the day. When he retired, however, it was with additional assurances that he would be the next speaker of the house of representatives.

Both the east and the west contributed to Col. Henderson's support. Congressman Littlefield and Boutelle of Maine telegraphed their congratulations, which were accepted as practical assurances of their support, and a letter was also received from Congressman W. W. Grout of Vermont pledging his support. Congressman Mercer of Nebraska telegraphed that he and his republican colleague from Nebraska would support Henderson. In the evening ex-Congressman Nathan Frank of Missouri called on Col. Henderson and assured him that Missouri would fall in line and support him for the speakership with her three republican votes. This makes a total of ninety votes formally pledged to Henderson, besides which he is sure of nine from Indiana and six from Kansas. The number required to nominate him in the caucus is ninety-three.

Congressman Boutelle of Illinois, who has just arrived from New England, called on Col. Henderson and assured him of strong support from that quarter. In an interview, Congressman Boutelle said: "I regard Col. Henderson as being practically certain of the speakership. I can see nothing for the other candidates to do but to step down and make his election unanimous."

Col. Henderson would not talk for publication, but said he considered his election practically certain.

Austin, Tex., June 5.—Advices have been received here from Mexico that the municipal authorities of Vera Cruz, aided by the Mexican government, have determined to construct extensive sanitary works in that city, with a view to stamping out the yellow fever epidemic, which has again made its appearance there. Contracts amounting to over $2,000,000 for the construction of sewers and a pumping system have just been let.

Festival City Is Selected.

Worcester, Mass., June 5.—About thirty delegates attended the biennial convention of the American Union of Swedish Singers Sunday. The place of holding the 1901 festival of the union was decided in favor of Jamestown, N. Y. The union decided not to send a chorus to the Paris exposition, as there will be no singing competition in connection with the exposition.

Three Train Robbers Caught.

Denver, Colo., June 5.—A report from Cheyenne, Wyo., says: "A special from Union Pacific sources is to the effect that the Albany county sheriff's posse has captured three of the Union Pacific train robbers six miles from Casper, Wyo., and that one of them has made a confession. The rest of the gang is being pursued in the direction of Glen Rock."

Big Fire at Buffalo, N. Y.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 5.—A fire which originated in the storehouse of the Potter Wall-Paper company last night did damage to the amount of $100,000.

New York took on the Louisville for a game, and shoved the latter into a tie with Washington for next to last place. A meeting of the board of directors is set for to-day at New York, ostensibly for the purpose of reaching an agreement regarding the prices charged at Philadelphia, but rumor asserts the real purpose is a reduction of the league circuit. WOODMEN AT KANSAS CITY.

Many Delegates Assemble to Attend the Meetings This Week.

Kansas City, Mo., June 5.—Delegates from all directions are arriving by thousands to attend the coming gathering of the Modern Woodmen of America. Head Consul William A. Northcott of Illinois, accompanied by the executive officers, arrived Sunday and opened headquarters at the Coates house. Headquarters have been opened also by Maj. C. W. Hawes, head clerk of the order, who is a candidate for reelection; by F. R. Croker of Iowa, who wants to be head banker, and by other aspirants for office. The caucuses to-day will probably settle the question of officers. The first business session will begin Tuesday morning and the great parade will take place Thursday.

The hardest fight of the convention, involving most of the politics of the woodmen, will be over the meeting place for 1901. A special train from St. Paul arriving Sunday bore a determined lot of delegates, who immediately began working for the next meet. Another big delegation from Grand Rapids, Mich., also arrived and went to work earnestly for the same prize.

Cruiser to Take Dreyfus Home.

Paris, June 5.—The cabinet council has decided that the French second-class cruiser Stax, now at Port de France, Martinique, should proceed immediately and bring Dreyfus from Devil's Island to France. The cruiser is expected to arrive at Brest about June 26, when Dreyfus will be handed to the military authorities and lodged in the military prison at Rennes.

Many Indians Are Drowned.

Layton, Alberta, May 5.—Between twenty-five and thirty Indians, including men, women and children, were drowned in the Lake of Clouds, near the Canadian Pacific railway, while crossing the reservation to attend a potlatch. They were traveling in boats rudely manufactured of caribou skins, when the boat collided. The vessels were overturned and the entire party was lost.

Japan's Deficit Is $7,500,000.

Moscow, June 5.—According to advices from Tokyo, the deficit of Japan for 1899 will amount to 15,000,000 rubles ($7,500,000). To cover this and to provide for certain expenses contemplated the empire is said to have negotiated a state loan of £10,000,000 in England.

Varioloid at Indian School.

Carlisle, Pa., June 5.—It became known Saturday that varioloid exists among the Indian students at the training school in this city. The patients are boys. None of the pupils is allowed to leave the grounds unless by special permission.

HAY KNEW OF GERMAN PLAN.

United States Informed on Pacific Island Cession.

DIPLOMATIC DENIAL GIVEN.

Washington Officials Were Asked Last September If Any Objections Would Be Made—Have Been Cognizant of All Steps Taken Since.

Berlin, June 5.—With due respect for Secretary Hay's diplomatic denial that the United States had been consulted regarding the cession of the remnant of Spain's colonial empire in the Pacific to Germany, it can be stated upon confidential but absolutely trustworthy authority that the American government was informed by the German government last September that negotiations were in progress at Madrid, and no important step has since been taken without the knowledge of the Washington authorities.

The Cologne Gazette, which undoubtedly has close relations with the foreign office, unconsciously betrays the reason the German government so assiduously cultivated the friendship of America during the last few months.

It says the announcement to the cortes will undoubtedly please the patriots, not only because the cession will bring under German control those island groups where German interests already predominate, but also because it will round out Germany's Pacific possessions and give it the connecting links in the chain from Kiau Chou to Samoa.

This assertion occasioned a reminder on the part of the Kreuz Zeitung that Samoa is not a German colony. The real kernel of the Cologne Gazette's remarks, however, is in the discussion of the difficulties the foreign secretary, Baron von Bulow, had to overcome and the circumspection he had to exercise in order not to arouse the antagonism of the other powers. It is not long, it says, since the Americans would not willingly have tolerated Germany as a neighbor but would have opposed the cession of the islands with force.

But his wise and patient policy had succeeded so far in weakening American prejudices as to make sure of no objections from this source, and even to elicit expression from America of satisfaction in having a neighbor so enterprising and powerful a nation. Had Von Bulow followed the advice of passionate zealots from the agrarian and other camps and adopted a harsh policy toward America the task would certainly have been more difficult.

WINE OF CARDUI

THE LINK THAT BINDS.

JACKSON, TENN., NOV. 23.

I was subject to miscarriage for three years, and suffered constantly with backache. I wrote to you for advice, and after using three bottles of Wine of Cardui, according to your directions, I am strong and well, and the mother of a fine girl baby.

Mrs. E. N. JOWEEN.

There is no use talking—a baby in the house is the link that binds husband and wife together. Nothing is sadder than fruitless wedlock. The prattling and cooing of the little ones offset a thousand times the occasional worries and trials of life. When a wife is barren, there is a derangement somewhere in the genital organs, caused by one or more of those common disorders known as "female troubles". Wine of Cardui is the remedy. It puts the organs of generation in a strong and healthy condition, fitting the wife for the sacred duty of reproducing her kind. During the period of gestation the entire system of the expectant mother is built up to withstand the ordeal of labor, and when the little one makes its advent it is lusty and strong, well-fitted to grow to maturity in perfect health. The mother, too, passes through the trial with little pain and no dread. Wine of Cardui is truly a wonderful medicine for women.

The Best is Always The Cheapest.

This holds good in a Furnace as much as in anything else. A poor, cheap Furnace is the bane to any man's life. He pays almost as much for a half good heater as he would for a last a life time, are more economical in fuel, and will absolutely not escape gas. No bolts are used throughout the Furnace. Fire pots are constructed in two heavy parts, allowing them to expand and contract at the very point where required.

Mueller Furnaces have many superior points over others—their being of cast iron adds weight and also extra heat. We have one set upon our floor so that you can see all about it.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY.

1826—Carl Maria Friedrich Ernst, Baron von Weber, famous musical composer, died; born 1786. Weber was a pupil of Michael Haydn and other composers. While a very young man he became director and manager of opera at Prague and also at Dresden. His masterpiece, "Der Freischütz," appeared when he was 36, four years before his death. "Oberon," his last opera, was first produced in 1835.

1870—1,000 buildings burned and 2,000 lives lost at Constantinople.

1887—Rear Admiral Samuel P. Lee, U. S. N., retired, last of the civil war commanders of great squadrons, died in Washington; born 1812.

1896—Captain Charles V. Gridley, commander of Dewey's flagship in the battle at Manila, died at sea off Japan.

HORSES IN DEMAND

Rock county farmers will be interested in The New York Journal's opinion of the condition of the horse market. The Journal says:

"Signs are multiplying that we are approaching a critical period in the horse market—the market, that is to say, for horses suited for everyday work. Of course, this is said with all the possible deference to those that assert that the end of the horse's utility is nearly reached."

"The fact is that we are just beginning to feel seriously the reaction from a period of overproduction. The net result of that time of excessive and indiscriminate breeding is that horses are becoming scarce. This spring horses are selling at high figures whenever and wherever they are of the stamp that merits it, but the real scarcity has not yet been appreciated."

Breeding establishments without number have been broken up in the panicky times of the last five years. Our export trade has increased enormously, quietly and gradually, but none the less surely, until it is stated that 51,000 horses, apart from thoroughbreds and trotters shipped for racing purposes, were sent out of the country last year. In the mania for trotting blood converted to the purpose of high-stepping harness work, many stallions have been put to the stud, while mares that, with a flush market, would have been held too precious for sale, have been exported or devoted to active work here."

"From these and make some other causes the supply is not equaling the demand. The spread of the horse show has done much to make the public's taste in horse flesh exalting, and now it is common to hear dealers of high standing complain that, search as they may, they cannot find material to suit the taste of purchasers, who are willing to pay big figures for good animals."

"These are matters that the farmers will do well to ponder. The time was never ripe to reap big returns from capital wisely invested in high class breeding stock. It does not pay, and probably never will pay again, to breed indiscriminately from trashy stock, but there is every prospect that the market for all varieties of horses that approximate the best types will not only stay strong, but that something like famine prices will be paid within the next two or three years."

There is always a market for good horses, "scrubs" and common stock never bring good prices, but well bred showy animals now do, and always will command a high price."

The Japanese are a practical people and do not care much for amusement. Whatever they do is done with a definite object in view. This fact is shown by the statement that of the 27,000 new books published in Japan last year, only 462 were works of fiction."

Judge Baker of the Federal Court at Indianapolis, has decided that the heirs of a man who was lynched may bring suit against the sheriff for damages.

ORVILLE MORSE RESIGNS

For Nine Years Has Acted as Grand Hotel Clerk.

Orville S. Morse, who for the past nine years has served as night clerk at the Grand Hotel, has severed his connection and is now engaged in the fire insurance business with offices in the L. B. Carle block.

Mr. Morse for the past few years has done considerable fire insurance business so that the venture is by no means a new one to him.

His many local friends will wish him success.

W. H. Wilder, an experienced hotel man from Oconto, succeeded Mr. Morse at the Grand.

Phil May Dislikes Interviews.

Phil May, one of the most popular of our present day artists, is an ardent wheelman. Mr. May is a Yorkshireman, 33 years of age, but he had reached his 27th birthday before his genius was recognized. His early life was a life of hard work, scantily rewarded, and one reason why Mr. May dislikes being interviewed is that, whenever the story of his early struggles appears in print, hundreds of people write to him, informing him that "a fellow feeling makes us wondrous kind," and that a trifling sum toward the relief of their immediate necessities would be very acceptable.

Among the remarkable marine animals whose habits have recently been studied at Wood's Hole, Mass., are the ribbon-like sea worms called "nemertean worms." One species frequenting the New England coast sometimes attains a length as great as 22 feet, with a width of about one inch. These worms are carnivorous, living on minute inhabitants of the water. At low tide they conceal themselves under stones. When handled they easily break apart, but from such fragments an entire worm is sometimes reproduced. Prof. Coe estimates that a nemertean five feet in length may contain not less than a quarter of a million eggs.

King's Charity.

Any poor child who likes to present himself or herself at the gate of the Royal Palace at Madrid at 6 o'clock in the evening can have a bowl of porridge. This custom originated through the young king having been detained in a remote district, owing to a breakdown of the engine. He became hungry, but no food was obtainable; his mother improved the occasion by telling him that many a poor child had to go to bed hungry, which so impressed the youngster that he urged his mother to institute this charity.

New Story of Mark Twain.

Here is a new story of Mark Twain, whose after dinner speeches are unique. At a recent dinner to which he was invited his name was associated with the toast of "Literature" by an orator, who referred with great eloquence to Homer, Shakespeare, Milton, and Mark Twain. In response the humorist thanked the speaker for his kindly references, and excused himself from making a longer speech by saying: "Homer is dead. Shakespeare and Milton are no more, and I—I don't feel very well myself!"

A Japanese Katishaw.

The "Kanazawa Shimbun" of Japan, recently published the following advertisement: "Hesuijoshi seeks a husband. She describes herself thus: 'I am a beautiful woman with cloud-like hair, flowery face, willow-like waist and crescent eyebrows. I have enough property to walk through life hand-in-hand, gazing at flowers in the day and the moon at night. If there is a gentleman who is clever, learned, handsome and of good taste, I will join with him for life and share the pleasure of being buried in the same grave.'"

Prof. Helmholtz's Brain.

Dr. Hausmann, of the Berlin University, has made an examination of the brain of the late Prof. Helmholtz. The average weight of a man's brain is 1,358 grammes. Gauss' brain weighed 1,492, Cuvier's 1,600 and Helmholtz's only 1,440, but in its frontal part it presented every unusual development and number of convolutions, and it is these convolutions, not brain weight, that modern physiology associates with intelligence.

Nora's Question.

The mother of one of our soldiers in the late war was busy packing a box containing food to send to him, and the servant was watching the operation. Having placed the last article in the box, she said: "I guess that is all, Nora; we will now nail it up."

"Excuse me, mum," said Nora, "but how is he ever going to get it open unless we put in an ax?"—Harper's Bazar.

Persia to Contest.

The Shah of Persia is a profound believer in the possibility of his country once more assuming the proud position it once held. The Persians ought to rule the world, in his opinion; the power of Great Britain will wane ere long, and there will be a contest among the nations for the place. Persia, he says, will be in that contest.

Physical and Mental.

Queen Victoria's excellent health is due to the fact that she has kept mind and body continually employed. Her pathway was smoothed for her from childhood, and she has never known that worry about making five pounds do the work of ten, which wears so many women.

And He's at It Yet.

Mr. Cecil J. Rhodes is the fourth son of a rector of Bishops Stortford, and in his boyhood often scandalized the good people of the place by his tricks. If there was any "devilment" on foot, says one who knew him, it was 100 to 1 that young Rhodes was in it.

WELL LIGHTED

By an American Electric Plant in the City of Manila.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: One of the first things noticed by American naval officers in the city of Manila was the excellence of the street lighting, which is fully up to the standard of American cities. It seems that in 1895 an American firm made a twenty years' contract with the municipal council for lighting of the city. It was to supply 140 2,000-candle power arc lamps and 1,000 twenty-candle power incandescent lamps for $60,250 (Mexican) per annum. The contract provided that the lamps should burn every night and all night (i. e., from 20 minutes after sunset to 20 minutes after sunrise). The city lighting covers all streets on both sides of the Pasig river, except a few in several native quarters of the town. As might be expected, the private lighting service has grown largely, and includes, besides many arcs, about 6,000 incandescents. Some of the city residences have as many as 200 lights each. Since the Americans took possession of the city the electric light company has been busy day and night. The barracks selected for the troops had to be lighted, and the churches, cock pits and "go-downs," or warehouses, appropriated as quarters for the soldiers, had to be wired and connected with the lighting system. The Chinese merchants were quick to see the advantages of having a flood of electric light in their stores and in one of the business quarters there are over 2,000 incandescents in a space of about four blocks. The agent of the electric company happened to be in Yokohama when the news came that Dewey's fleet had sailed from Hongkong for Manila. He was at once applied to for electric fans for the ships of the fleet, and managed to secure about twenty. Subsequently he bought back at a handsome premium fifty more that he had just delivered to a customer, and the whole consignment was shipped immediately to Manila, where they were a godsend to the officers aboard ship, who had already begun to experience the intense discomfort which is inseparable from living in cramped quarters in a tropical climate.

TWO LANGUAGES.

Learned by a Smart Young Man While Teaching Another.

Brooklyn Citizen: I know a young American in New York, who, some years ago, after saving enough money to pay his passage across the Atlantic, and studying French for a short time, went to Paris, hired a room, and put on its door a card bearing his name, with the legend, "Teacher of the English Language." In a few days he got a pupil at the rate of one franc a week; by the end of the week he had several pupils; his fame spread so that in a few months he had four classes, each class with 20 pupils, meeting in his room at different hours of the morning and the evening. His weekly income now was 80 francs, or $16, which was twice as much as he needed for his support. All this time he was learning the French language by teaching the English and by talking with his pupils. At the end of the first year he could count dollars in his pocket by the hundred. Meanwhile, having managed to pick up some scraps of German, he determined to try his luck in one of the university cities of Germany. He there put out a small sign bearing his name and the words, "Teacher of English and French." He got more pupils than he had in Paris, and meanwhile, not only perfected himself in the German tongue, but took lessons in Latin and Greek at a classical academy. In less than three years from the time he left New York he came back to it, and now he is professor of ancient and modern languages, including the Sanscrit and Persian, in a famous American institution of learning. I would like to print his name in this place, but he says "Don't," as he himself is going to get out a book telling the whole story.

Pensions and Disabilities.

It seems very queer that a man who has been examined by a medical board of the pension office and found sufficiently disabled to entitle him to a pension should go a few blocks west to the war department and be reported physically sound by a military medical board, and then, after the war, go back to the pension office for re-examination and get another report of total physical disability. The fact that the army medical board has declared a man sound has no weight with the pension medical boards, and vice versa. When a pensioner enlisted in the army he had to forfeit his pension, and now, when he is mustered out it is granted him again. These cases are occurring every day, and simply illustrate the weakness in the pension bureau.—Chicago Record.

Story of the Late Judge Pinney.

One day, when the late Judge Pinney of Wisconsin was a member of the supreme court of that state, a young lawyer who was arguing his first case began as follows: "Ancient history teaches us—" The judge, looking up from the printed brief, remarked: "Young man, just pass over the ancient and mediaeval periods and begin with the modern era." The young lawyer was put out for the nonce, but learned a lesson.

Grain-O Brings Relief.

to the coffee drinker. Coffee drinking is a habit that is universally indulged in and almost as universally injurious. Have you tried Grain-O? It is almost like coffee, but the effect is just the opposite. Coffee uses the stomach, and ruins the digestion, effects the heart and disturbs the whole nervous system. Grain-O tones up the stomach, improves the digestion, strengthens the nerves. There is nothing but nourishment in Grain-O. It costs nothing, 15 and 25c per package.

TO CURE BY DREAMS.

A Doctor's Device for Making the Patient See Pleasant Visions.

An English physician claims to have discovered a new and efficacious cure for persons afflicted with nervous or mental maladies. If such persons, he says, can only procure pleasant dreams they will soon regain their health, and his aim is, therefore, to furnish them with delightful dreams. For this purpose he uses a soft leather cap, which covers the patient's head and ears and leaves only the face uncovered. Beside the ears are placed two metal plates, which are joined by a rubber tube to a phonograph. The patient rests on a divan in a dark room and in front of him is a sort of magic lantern, from which are projected at brief intervals various enjoyable pictures. In this way, it is claimed, the eyes of the sick person are delighted, while at the same time his ears are soothed by the vibrations of the phonograph. As a result, weariness comes upon him and is soon followed by slumber, and it is while he is dozing in this manner that happy dreams are evoked, thanks to the phonograph and the stereopticon. After this light slumber comes a deep sleep, which, we are assured, is always most beneficial. Several tests of this kind have been made with success, and it is said that not only are tired nerves refreshed by this method, but that the patient's body also rapidly increases in weight. That pleasant sounds and sights are soothing to the nerves we have all known for a long time, but that pleasant dreams have a tendency to make persons fat will certainly be news to the general public.

The saying is an old one but nevertheless a true one, "the best is always the cheapest." It has been proven true in Bicycles to a very great extent. CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS MEET.

Four Services Necessary to Accommodate the Crowd.

Boston, June 5.—Sunday's four services at the First Church of Christ marked the beginning of the annual meeting of Christian Scientists in this country and Europe. There are about 10,000 members of the church here at present, and 2,550 new members were added to the roll and received into the church at the communion services Sunday. This included several from England and Scotland and three from Australia, who made the pilgrimage to Boston to unite with the mother church here.

The services were the same at each meeting, consisting of a hymn, by Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, sung by the congregation, reading from the scriptures, prayer, hymn, announcements, reading of tenets and rules of the church, singing of the communion hymn, written by Mrs. Eddy, reading of Mrs. Eddy's message, hymn, invitation to communion, scientific statement of being, and benediction. Mrs. Eddy lives in Concord, N. H., and was not present at any of the meetings.

The membership enrolled on the books of the mother church up to May 29 was 12,114. This will make a total membership of nearly 15,000.

Cause of the Kettle's Song.

People often wonder what makes the high note of a simmering tea-kettle, but the explanation is simple. As the water heats little bubbles of steam are formed at the bottom of the kettle. These rush upward and, being attracted to the sides of the kettle, they make a commotion which sets the metal in vibration and the kettle "sings."

VERY FINE! "It's really very good," is the opinion of every discriminating man who first samples OLD UNDEROOF RYE.

It is well known that the blending of whiskeys is a special art, understood by few—an art that cannot be learned except by practical experiment extending over long years. The whiskeys selected for the famous Old Underoof combination are each and all chosen for some acknowledged superiority peculiar to each distillation. By being stored in charred oaken barrels for many years its mellowness is refined. Guaranteed entirely free from all artificial color or flavor. Our reputation is staked on this.

Chicago Live Stock Report.

Chicago, June 3.—There was almost no trading in cattle or sheep today, only a few hundred head arriving in either branch, and demand ruling very slack and indifferent for the few offered. Early trade in hogs was fairly active at steady prices, light and butcher weight hogs selling very readily, but heavy hogs dragged from the start and the bulk of such sold later at 5c decline from Friday's best prices. Receipts were estimated at 200 cattle, 17,000 hogs and 1,500 sheep. Fairly liberal marketing of cattle and hogs is anticipated for the early trade next week, estimates ranging around 17,500 cattle and 36,000 hogs, but traders hope for a very small run of sheep, to afford opportunity for the market in this line to recover its footing. Closing prices for cattle range from barely steady to 25c lower, the grassy cattle having suffered most decline; heavy hogs are selling 5@7 1/2c lower than one week ago, while light show no loss, and sheep and lambs are selling mostly 25c below prices quoted one week ago.

Bad management keeps more people in poor circumstances than any other one cause. To be successful one must look ahead and plan ahead so that when a favorable opportunity presents itself he is ready to take advantage of it. A little forethought will also save much expense and valuable time. A prudent and careful man will keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in the house, the shiftless fellow will wait until necessity compels it and then ruin his best horse going for a doctor and have a big doctor bill to pay, besides, one pays out 25 cents, the other is out a hundred dollars and then wonders why his neighbor is getting richer while he is getting poorer. For sale by People's Drug Co., Cor. Main and Milwaukee streets.

Japan Fears the Americans.

Seattle, Wash., June 5.—Speaking of the expected influx of American capital when the new commercial treaties go into effect in this month, a native Japanese paper says: "Japan may be overreaching herself in inviting American capital to invest in our fair country. The financiers in the United States are far too clever for the Japanese, with his slack business methods and scanty experience. Then the American moneyed men are consolidating their various interests into trusts." After commenting on the evils of trusts, the editorial says: "Japan cannot be too careful about keeping out foreign capital that places her thoroughly under control."

Wage Settlement Expected.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 5.—At a conference Saturday between Secretary Nutt of the Western Bar Iron association and President Shaffer of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers it was decided to hold the scale conferences in Detroit, beginning next Wednesday. The one to arrange the scale for puddling and finishing will be held June 7 and 8, for the tin plate June 9 and 10 and sheets June 12 and 13. It is believed that a settlement will be reached. Both sides are far apart at present. The workers will insist on a 13-10 cent basis, while the manufacturers want it reduced to 1 cent.

Ruinous Flood in California.

Redding, Cal., June 5.—As a result of the cloudburst in the southwestern part of Shasta county, Duckett creek, ordinarily a placid stream, was transformed into a raging torrent and overflowed its banks, submerging all the adjoining low lands. The water flowed over many acres of land which had been under cultivation, ruining the growing crops and washing away out-buildings and fences. An entire band of sheep was swept from the pasture field and drowned.

In One Store a Half a Century.

In business in Louisville at one location for fifty years and interested in one pursuit for sixty-eight years. This is the record of Edward N. Maxwell, E. N. Maxwell & Co. is the firm name, and the place of business is 432 West Main street. There is no "company," however. Mr. Maxwell is the firm, his partner having died years ago. He deals in blank books, stationery, and office supplies, and does job printing, and he has been partner in and owner of the business at the same stand for fifty years. Although in his 78th year, Mr. Maxwell is as active and energetic as a man of 50. His hair and beard are silver gray, but his face shows scarcely a wrinkle, and his eyes are as bright as those of a boy.—Louisville Dispatch.

FEAR FOR RICHARD P. BLAND.

Missouri Congressman and Free Silver Leader Seriously Ill.

Lebanon, Mo., June 5.—Congressman Richard P. Bland is seriously ill and his friends are considerably alarmed over his condition.

For the last two months he has been confined to his room, attended daily by a physician.

Saturday night the patient suffered such alarming change for the worse that his sons at school in St. Louis were summoned by telegraph.

Denver Wants Republican Convention.

Chicago, June 5.—According to Charles G. Dawes, Denver will try to secure the next republican national convention. Senator Wolcott has written to every member of the national committee, setting forth Denver's claims for recognition.

Mr. Dawes figures that a bigger crowd will be in attendance at the next convention than was at the last one. As soon as the time and place are announced he thought the committee would open headquarters in Chicago and place a man in charge to handle the preliminary work.

Kills Babies and Herself.

New York, June 5.—Mrs. Johanna Schilling, 35 years of age, and her two young daughters, Gertrude, aged 10, and Edna, aged 8, were found dead Sunday afternoon in their home in a tenement. All had been asphyxiated by gas, doubtless turned on by the mother with the idea of murdering her two children and then committing suicide. The tragedy grew out of a quarrel between the woman and her husband, Otto Schilling, a tailor.

Wind Does Damage in Iowa.

Waterloo, Iowa, June 5.—About 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon a storm of wind and rain swept over northeastern Iowa, covering a section of the state about fifty miles wide and extending from near Cedar Rapids to the northern part of the state. The storm was not in the nature of a cyclone, but was a straight blow. Telegraph and telephone wires are prostrated, but so far as can be learned no person was injured.

Pottery Combine Unlikely.

East Liverpool, O., June 5.—Three representatives of a Chicago firm were in the city last week submitting to pottery manufacturers here the plans for a new earthenware trust. They met with little encouragement. The proposition of the Chicagoans is that the manufacturers take 75 per cent of the stock. The promoters agree to take the other 25 per cent. Local manufacturers declare that they will not go into the project.

OUT OF TUNE AND HARSH.

Stove's Unevenness Affects Piano's Sweetness.

The girl had a new piano. She was a musical girl, and it was as nice a piano as could be found. When she had it properly set up and ready for use there was probably not a happier girl. But as she sat down to play a look of discontent and wonder spread over her face. It was strange, but this new piano was certainly out of tune; certain notes sounded like the hammering of a piece of iron. That would never do; she couldn't play on a piano like that; she couldn't understand it, either, for certainly that piano had a very sweet tone in the shop. So the piano man was sent for in great haste, and came to see what the trouble was, very much astonished himself. He ran his fingers over the piano, and then, turning, gazed curiously around the room. That is a most curious and impertinent man," thought the girl, as she watched him, his fingers moving over the keys, but his eyes wandering searchingly from one piece of furniture to another. Finally he left the piano, went to a stove in the room, tucked a piece of paper under one leg, and went back to the piano, when, strange to say, every note was as sweet and clear and full as could have been desired, and there was not a suspicion of discord. During the cold weather a stove had been placed in the room, and, not standing evenly, with certain vibrations of the piano it was made to move, and there followed a little clattering of iron, which, coming simultaneously with the striking of the keys on the piano, sounded as if that instrument had produced the disagreeable sound. "That is all right now," said the man, as he left the piano, "only it was a stove man you needed instead of a piano man."

DRUMMER IS BADLY TRICKED.

A Cyrano De Bergerac Nose Gets a Man Into Trouble.

From the New Orleans Times-Democrat: "Saw a drummer get pretty badly sold at a little place between Chattanooga and Nashville the other day," said a local traveling man. "He had stopped over to sell some hardware and a merchant warned him to look out for a village wag who would drop around at the hotel that evening with a false nose. 'It's one of those Cyrano De Bergerac affairs, made of pasteboard,' said his informant, 'and this big lugger thinks it's funny to scare strangers with the thing. If you show the least surprise they'll make you set 'em up for the crowd.' 'I'll fix the idiot,' said the drummer, and thanked him for the tip. That evening he was sitting in the little hotel office, when sure enough in walked a fellow with a proboscis as big as an incandescent lamp and as red as a ripe tomato. 'Hello, Cy!' said the drummer. 'What d'y mean, sir!' says the man attached to the nose. 'Give me that for a scarpin,' says the drummer, and grabbed hold of it to pull it off. Good heavens! You ought to have heard the row! I was writing a letter, in the back room and I thought somebody had set off a dynamite bomb. By the time I got out Cyrano and the drummer had just knocked over the stove and were mixing up in the woodbox. When they pried them apart they looked like they'd been run through a cane-mill, but the nose was still in position. It was the real stuff, and its proprietor was a business competitor of the gent that gave the tip. Low down trick, wasn't it? When I went away the drummer was just beginning to see out of his right eye."

Another Hero.

One morning recently Wallace Logan, who was an engineer on a railroad train, died to save others. There was a wreck near Akron, O., in which Mrs. Frank Wilson, a Cincinnati lady, and many others were injured. Mr. Logan was on the engine and he could have escaped by jumping when the engine ran off the track, but he knew that if he did so a great many people would lose their lives, so he grasped the throttle valve and stuck to his post of duty, and he was the only one on all the train that was killed. He died because he was a brave man. Not every one has a chance to be a hero, but when the need for one rises there is always some one like Wallace Logan to fill the place. Everybody has to die some time, and when one's time has come it would be grand to die as he did—doing his duty.

What Thick Lips Mean.

Dr. A. Bloch, the French anthropologist, attacks the theory that thick lips are a denotement of sensuality, while thin and delicate lips denote spirituality, firmness and elevated character. In a recent paper the scientist claims that the shape, size and color of the lips are purely race characteristics, and that in the hybrid people of Europe and America, where there has been such a general intermingling of races, a child may well inherit from not very remote ancestors lips that completely belie the actual character of the child, as indicated by the lip theory. Dr. Bloch's investigations satisfy him that really thick lips in the white races are always anomalies or freaks of nature.

COUNTERFEITING MONEY EASY

New Precautions Against It Inaugurated by the Government.

The art of engraving by means of photographing and kindred aids has now reached such a degree of perfection that the government has been forced to redouble its vigilance to prevent frauds in that direction, says the Philadelphia Record. An old engraver said, in speaking of this matter: "The exposure of the recent big counterfeiting conspiracy has worked a change already in the system by which the government has heretofore kept track of dangerous counterfeiting methods. Chief Wilkie, I see, says that Taylor and Bredell employed a new system in imitating the $100 Monroe head counterfeit. He is wrong. The system has been in vogue for many years and is common to all experts in our line. There are, no doubt, hundreds of engravers who would scorn to do a dishonest act who could make counterfeit plates far better than the ones turned out by Taylor and Bredell. As a matter of fact, the plate that was used to print the counterfeit internal revenue stamps was a very imperfect piece of work, and there are apprentices I know of who could do better. However, they were good enough to fool the ordinary person. In the near future the government will require all engravers and those connected with engraving establishments to register at least once a month and to present a list of the work performed by them."

Mr. P. Betchem, of Pike City, Cal., says: "During my brother's late sickness from sciatic rheumatism, Chamberlain's Pain Balm was the only remedy that gave him any relief." Many others have testified to the prompt relief from pain which this liniment affords. For sale by People's Drug Co., corner Main and Milwaukee streets.

One Last Fling.

"So you opened wine for your troops, so as to fire them with courage?" said the Philippine commander's friend. "Well, that's what we gave out," was the answer. "But, to be candid, some of the boys thought they would like to indulge in one more wild occasion before they were liable to arrest for being drunk and disorderly."—Washington Star.

National Educational Association at Los Angeles, Cal.—Excursion Rates.

For the above meeting the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway will sell round trip excursion tickets at half-fare plus $2, from June 25 to July 8. Final return limit will be September 4, 1899. Stop-over privileges within transit limit will be granted. We ticket over all routes and make desirable reservations in sleeping cars.

Hair Turned from White to Black.

There have been several instances of a man's hair turning from white to black. One of the most notable, perhaps, was that of an engineer in the fire department of Louisville, Ky. His age was 55, and he was on duty during a tremendous fire for fifteen consecutive hours. The spray was constantly flying from the hose, and he became, in consequence of the low temperature of the atmosphere, covered from head to foot with ice. He wore a skull cap and a helmet on top of that, so that his head was the warmest part of his body and not at all exposed, though his eyebrows and whiskers became wet and were frozen stiff. The afternoon after the exposure his hair, which had become gray eight years before, and for three years had been white, turned perfectly black.

A Suggestion.

"What is the—what is the name of those things with wings on their heads?" asked Mr. Bopps, who couldn't think of the word "cherub" to save him. "Mules?" suggested Mrs. Bopps, in all innocence.—Indianapolis Journal.

A Virginia Mother

she used five bottles of Mother's Friend, beginning six months before confinement. She felt perfectly well up to a few hours before the baby was born, and was in labor less than two hours. She had no morning sickness, no headache, no distressing tightness, no swollen or rising breasts. Her baby was strong and the picture of health.

Mother's Friend is the only remedy known which relieves the expectant mothers. It is a liniment to be applied externally. Nothing but harm can come from taking medicine internally at such times. All internal preparations said to relieve coming mothers are not only humbugs, but positively dangerous.

Mother's Friend costs $1 a bottle at druggists, or you can send to The Bradford Regulator Co., Atlanta, Ga.

METAL TRADING CHECKS

Used in Parts of Minnesota as a Substitute for Money.

The use of metal trading checks has become so general in some of the country districts in Minnesota as to almost supplant the use of government coin, and a suit has been instituted against the stamping concern making the checks to determine whether the production of them is in violation of the federal coinage laws. These checks are about the size of a silver quarter. They are stamped with the name of the firm for whom they are made, and bear a statement that they will be received for a certain amount in trade, the amounts ranging from 5 cents to $1. Country merchants use them in exchange for produce. They are good for trade only at the store issuing them. But from the fact that the stores refuse to pay for produce in any other currency, they soon come to be accepted by all other stores, as the farmers selling produce have no other coin to spend. In this way their circulation becomes general in certain localities. The storekeepers maintain that as they have an unquestionable right to give receipts good in trade, it is immaterial whether they are written on paper or stamped on metal. The practice is a profitable one for the merchants, and it enables them to do business on a borrowed capital on which they do not pay interest.

'Quality' BREAD.

Don't get the wrong impression, because we have built up such a high reputation for delicious, wholesome Bread that you pay any more for it than you do for the common every-day stuff.

It costs us more to make Bread of the quality of the EUREKA than the kind that has no substance, but GOOD BREAD MAKES FRIENDS RAPIDLY for us.

Don't Lock your Money up in a Poor Refrigerator

Buy the Best. Get an

"Illinois" Taint Proof Refrigerator.

Any refrigerator will perhaps do for a short time, but they are not an every season purchase, and the poor refrigerator does not improve with age. That damp, sour, repugnant smell, comes to most all refrigerators without the proper insulation and circulation.

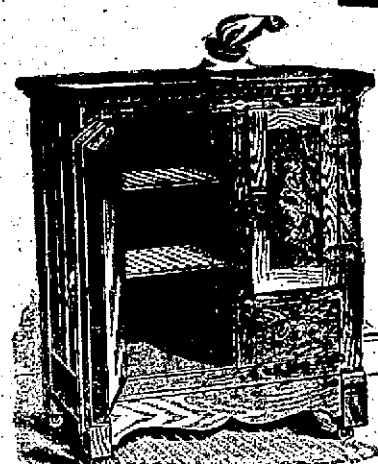

ILLINOIS AUTOMATIC REFRIGERATORS

Are not only perfect in circulation, but are also much handier both for the placing of ice in the box and in caring for provisions. According to nature's laws cold air descends and warm air ascends. Illinois Refrigerators are made to aid these conditions; the two air currents do not meet opposing forces in either the ice or provision chamber.

The Only Water Cooler

that gives entire satisfaction is this Porcelain lined Cooler in the Illinois. Water is cooled without coming in contact with the air inside the refrigerator; it is porcelain lined and is sweet and clean.

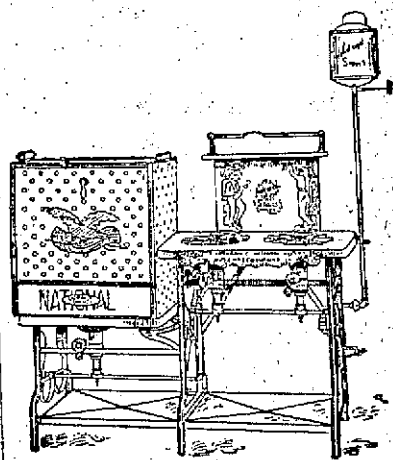

None so Economical, None so Clean, as the

is the man who wins the maid, but he don't want to make a "rough rider" of her, when he takes her out in his carriage to let the beauties of nature soften her heart.

Our Easy Riding BUGGIES

are the thing to make her wish that she could ride on forever with you. Our line of vehicles are well known, and not only speak for themselves but speak for us as well. When you see a manufacturing concern put a buggy on the market and put their reputation as a manufacturer with it as we do you may know that the buggy has got the quality and workmanship to sustain both, not for a few months only, but for years.

We take Pride in our Reputation for Vehicles that have the Quality and are Built Right.

Our customers tell us that they save more than enough in repairs alone to make up the difference between the price of our buggies and those that are offered by others for less money, claiming them to be just as good as ours. Try us and you will say the same.

Good Shoes are Not So Dear In Price

But that every lady can have handsome footwear for every occasion. In speaking of good Shoes we mean

Queen Quality $3 Shoes.
